

A clear glass filled with water and several ice cubes. A white straw is inserted into the glass. The glass is condensation-covered and sits on a light-colored surface. The background is a soft, out-of-focus grey.

Who's Welcome?

A background image of a clear glass filled with water and several ice cubes. A white straw is inserted into the glass. The text is overlaid on this image.

Whoever welcomes you

- - A call to mission. . . .
  - Instructions for the Twelve
  - Hospitality

A background image of a clear glass filled with water and several ice cubes. A white straw is inserted into the glass. The text is overlaid on this image.

The welcomer's reward

- Welcoming *me*
- The reward of the prophets
- The reward of the righteous

A close-up photograph of a clear glass filled with water and several ice cubes. A white straw is inserted into the glass, partially submerged. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light blue and white. The text "What does welcome look like?" is overlaid in a large, white, sans-serif font.

What does welcome look like?

- Simple hospitality
- A crack for grace

A background image of a clear glass filled with water and several ice cubes. The glass is slightly out of focus, and the water has some condensation on it. The text is overlaid on this image.

Why backwards?

- Discomfort with receiving welcome
- Discomfort with walking the way of the Cross
- Returning to Weakness